Collin War Dead To Be Honored With Memorial

In the last two world wars Collin County lost almost two hundred of its finest young men, and we should have a lasting monument to perpetuate their sacrifice. For this purpose the U.S. Government is giving us a big army tank, which we intend to place on the prepared concrete base in Finch Park.

On a bronze plaque on this tank, we propose to place the names of every boy who paid the supreme sacrifice in those two wars. It will be an everlasting memorial, testifying to the valor of those whose heroic deeds upheld the fine traditions of this county. Their names must not be allowed to drift into oblivion. We owe them a memorial such as this; one that will endure hundreds of years.

The tank is free, but the cost of its transportation will be over $400.00. Shortly, you will be given the opportunity to subscribe to this fund, and it is hoped that every person in the county will donate any amount he can afford toward the cost of transporting this memorial.

A report of the school engineer concerning the last inspection of the high school and junior high school buildings has been submitted to the school board as follows:

Fred McKinney,
President Board of Education,
McKinney, Texas.

RE: Boyd Senior High and L. A. Scott Junior High Schools.

Dear Mr. McKinney:

With regard to the above job, we wish to advise that we recently rechecked your existing buildings concerning the cracking and settlement which has occurred in connection with these buildings, as compared to previous checks which we made.

There has been some slight additional settlement, some of the cracks have opened slightly. However, we feel that the buildings can still be continued in use during the coming school term and can be occupied on the basis on which we originally recommended.

We will, of course, check your buildings periodicaly during the coming school term and should any changes of major consequence occur that would alter our opinion we will so advise your immediately. We trust that the above information will be helpful to the school district in determining the occupancy of the buildings during the coming fall school term.

Very truly yours,

Clinical Application of Serum PBI, read by Dr. Marshall M. Searcy, before the annual meeting of the Texas Society of American Medical Technologist, District II, August 18, 1957, McKinney, Texas.

Dysfunction of the thyroid gland is suspected in quite a number of the patients seen by the physician is general office practice. There are several tests that prove or disapprove this suspicion for the doctor. The Basal Metabolism test and the Cholesterol are two that have been in use for some time. As both of these tests are indirect means of measuring thyroid activity, a test that would directly measure the harmone generated by the thyroid was developed in recent years.

The serum Protein Bound Iodine meets this requirement in that it directly measures the circulating thyroxine. The results of test are not effected by anxiety, nervousness, or tension. Fasting is not obligatory nor is abstinence from smoking. Thus the patient is subjected to little discomfort or inconvenience. When a patient is found to have thyroid dysfunction serial determinations of the PBI are of distinct value in treatment, whether surgical or medical. It is found useful in differentiating conditions simulating thyroid disturbances.

The border line cases are more certainly detected whether hypothyroid or hyper-thyroid. Case histories from his own files were read by Dr. Searcy in which this test had proved of distinct value. Normal and abnormal ranges that were compiled by the Lahey Clinic were explained, as were the elements that had a tendency to effect deviations in test. These two discourses were enthusiastically received by the Technologists and will be of great help in their laboratory work.

Radiation Hazzards, a paper ready by Dr. Robert Lockwood before the annual meeting of District II, Texas State Society of The American Medical Technologist, August 18, 1957, McKinney, Texas.

The testing of atomic and hydrogen weapons during the last few years has caused a wide spread interest in the probable hazzards that may result from this type of radiation. This has not and cannot be answered fully at this time. However, we have all been subjected to radiation from the radio active metals contained in the earth itself and to cosmic rays eminating from sun for countless ages. So apparently the living organism has a rather high tolerance for radiation.

The two things that are of most interest are the probable damage, if any, to the somatic and genetic make up of the body. To gain some insight into this problem it is imperative that a general idea of the atom itself be understod. The atom may be compared with a miniature solar system with the nucleus representing the sun and the electrons rotating about it in regular orbits much in the manner of the plannets. These electrons travel at tremendous speed approaching that of light which attains the velocity of 186,000 miles per second. Nuclear fission that takes place when an atomic explosion occurs displaces these electrons from these orbits sending them out in countless numbers at these velocites of great magnitude. It is not difficult to see that these particles traveling at this velocity and striking the living organism would cause an alteration in the atomic structure of these body cells, this this in turn effects a change in the chemistry of the cells. The genetic phase is closely related to this, in that a gene or several genes which are the carriers of the hereditary traits may be displaced by this nuclear bombardmet, thus changing the structure of the chromosones. Damage caused by radiation from fall out and nuclear fission can only be evaluated at this time in terms of total radiation received over how much body surface, and how much time.

Diagnotic X-ray radiation is much easier to evaluate as it is never given except under rigidly controlled conditions. The doseage is held to a minimum to attain the maximum effect. All modern X-ray equipment is heavily shielded against stray radiation. The theraputic X-ray treatment is never given except by a specialist in this field and the dosages are carefully calculated in advance. Consequently there is a minimal hazzard involved in these treatments. The over all picture of radiation hazzards at this time is not completely known and will have to be evaluated more completely in the future. X-ray radiation and hazzards involved are well known and can be evaluated more closely and are given with a minimal hazzard.

BULLETIN GIVES TIPS ON PLANNED SELECTION IN SHEEP

Planned selection will pay off in any breeding flock of sheep. Comparative tests have proven that ranchmen practicing selection received 7.7 percent more for their wool than those not following selection.

A ewe's fleece should pay for her keep. But due to poor selection practices, many are kept in breeding flocks that do not live up to this requirement, says James Gray, extension animal husbandman, in a recenty released bulletin, "Selecting Sheep for Wool and Mutton Production."

This bulletin contains very helpful information for any ranchman who wishes to practice selection. It gives points on how to make selection work, pointing out the requirements for success as well as some of the obstacles to be faced. It also contains sections on types of programs; equipment needed to start a program; when to select; points to consider in selection, including quantity and quality; and some suggested forms for keeping records on commercial and registered flocks.

The valuable bulletin may be obtained from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas or from local county agents. Request B-858.

RECORD-KEEPING URGED IN FARM AND HOME DEVELOPMENT.

Goals, plans and records help farm and home development families get more family living satisfactions than where no goals are established and no plans made. Records help in evaluating what was done last year and help in planning for the years.

The Otto Beck family of Woodsboro in Refugio County say the biggest help in farm and home development is the planning done by the entire family.

Their decision-making is based on the farm record books. The long and short-time goals by which they measure results accomplished each year are a part of their record keeping. This system keeps a constant check on cost figure on each farm and home operation which becomes increasingly important because of the cost-price squeeze.

The home garden has made substantial contribution to the Beck family income. This past spring they planted sixty-five pounds of Irish cobbler seed patatoes and harvested 790 pounds of nice large potatoes which were stored for home use. Other garden grown produce was used fresh or stored for later use.

NEWS IN FLOOR COVERINGS

This year's introduction of acrylic fibers is news in the floor covering picture, according to extension home furnishings specialists. It also is known as Dynel synthetic fiber, man-crafted fiber, and science fiber.

Made of natural gas and air, acrylic fibers are the newst ones developed by scientists in their search for a man-made fiber for carpets that copies the qualities of wool. is still the standard by which all other carpet fibers are compared.

Acrylic fibers sell in the medium price range. They have a lot of bulk and natural springiness and are moth-proof, static-retardant, mildew-proof, and soil resistant.

Rayon, too, is very much in the picture this year because of cost advantage. It does mat down, but some companies are turning this feature into advantage by combining with wool to have a two-level tufted carpet. The wool is used in the higher tufts and gives the carpet resiliency and longer wear; the rayon yarns are in the background or lower level where they add color and sparkle. The combination of these two fabrics produces a carpet which can be sold for about $10 per yard.

Wool weavers are producing brilliant colors in wool carpeting as well as the muted or grayed tones which have been in use for years. The reason, no doubt, is competition of the clearer, brighter colors in man-made fibers and cotton. Colors like bronze, blueberry, cherry and avocado are being produced. The old standard colors of beige, gray and green are still around, of course.

A new bulk nylon carpet offers 20 percent more bulk and more texture; thus, getting away from the shiny, cut pile look of early nylon carpeting.

Atterbury, Mrs. Jouette Winners In C. C. Tourney

By FRED DICKINSON

J. W. Atterbury and Mrs. Jack Jouette won the championships in the McKinney Country Club's first Collin County Golf Tournament, which ended Monday.

The Tournament, an expanded Labor Day affair, found four flights competing in the Ladies Division and eight flights in the Men's Division.

The new champions, both of whom have won club championships before, also won medalist honors in the championship flight.

Atterbury won the medal trophy only after a hard battle with the same young golfer, Bobby Riggs, whom he defeated in the finals of the championship flight.

Handsome engraved trophies were presented to the winner and the runner-up in each of the twelve flights and to the six medal winners following completion of the tournament, Monday night. Tommie White presided at the presentation ceremony. Club President Alfred M. Scott presented the trophies.

Mrs. Jouette won her championship in a match with Mrs. Tommie White that provided some exceptional golf all the way. Mrs. Jouette came through the first nine holes with 41 strokes, while Mrs. White came through with 45. It was a close match in which Mrs. Jouette won the decisive holes with par golf.

Putting was the decisive factor in the men's championship battle. Both contestants missed short putts that almost eliminated them in his see-saw match that saw Atterbury one-up at the end of the first nine. Young Riggs, a star on the McKinney High championship golf team of the past three years, squared the match on No. 10 with a birdie 3 after a fine approach. He scrambled out of trouble on No. 12 after his long drive had sheared into the rough on the right. His next shot hit the trees at the creek but bounced through and left him barely room to swing as it settled under overhanging limbs. But, the husky youngster was equal to the occasion and with one foot practically in the creek he blasted the ball to the green 140 yards away.

Riggs got ahead on the fourteenth hole when he blasted a long drive then hit a beautiful approach shot within 4 feet of the pin. Atterbury's approach shot was on the back side of the green and his return putt was long. Although Riggs missed his putt for a birdie, Atterbury also missed. On No. 15, Atterbury hit a beautiful arched shot from the rough to the green 135 yards away despite the fact the ball was hanging on a tuft of grass so close to a hole that he couldn't even address the ball. Riggs' long drive and a good putt left him still one ahead at the end of this one, but on No. 16 he missed a two-foot putt that allowed Atterbury to square the match.

The "break" came on No. 17 when Riggs hit his second shot out of bounds after Atterbury had fought his way out of the rough short with a second shot. His third a tremendously well placed long iron rolled off the left side of the green. He kept his advantage on the 190-yard 18th hole with a drive that rolled to the back side of the green. Riggs was short on his drive on this one and couldn't make up the difference.

First flight honors went to Nathan White, the Plano golfer who has played so brilliantly in previous tournaments. White was at his best as he won from Bobby Tunnell of McKinney, 7-5. Tunnell got off to a shaky start and White played brilliantly to capture the first six holes. White still held this advantage at the end of nine holes which he negotiated in 38 strokes. He pushed his average to 7 up on No. 10; lost No. 11 to Tunnell's magnificent long 35 foot putt from the side of the green. They halved 12 and White won his well deserved title on No. 14.

Mrs. Jack Rattan of McKinney won the Ladies' First Flight by defeating Miss Juana Keith of Van Alstyne. Mrs. Rattan, a golfer for only a comparatively short while, played steadily and at times brilliantly to win this flight, which capped a year of sensational progress in the game.

Mrs. Clifford Knott won the Ladies' Second Flight in another fine championship round with Mrs. Charley Wysong.

Ladies' Third Flight honors went to Mrs. Killis Melton who won over Mrs. Gene Kissinger.

Men's Second Flight honors went to Ed Beverly who won from Dick Siebens in a close match.

Third Flight was captured by Dr. Charles McKissick of McKinney who won from Club President Alfred Scott, 3-2 in a duel that saw both men alternately brilliant and painfully wild.

Dr. McKissick won with one of the two sensational shots the tournament produced. After he gained a 2 up advantage over Scott when the latter hit two balls into the creek on No. 15, he holed out from 50 yards away on No. 16 for an "eagle" 2 on the par 4 300--yard hole. Scott had already out lasted two decisive "bridies" by his opponent and had battled back into contention with some fancy approaching and solid putting but McKissick's "bull's eye" ended the round.

The other shot that brought the gallery's blood pressure up was even more fantastic. It was the final lick that put young Riggs into the finals as he eliminated a classy visitor, Frank Malone Jr., of Dallas on the nineteenth hole after they ended the regulation 18 even, Monday morning. Malone's second shot was on the green and Riggs' was almost out-of-bounds behind the green. His third seemed too sharp and headed for the far side of the green when it hit the pin, climbed straight up almost to the flag and then dropped straight into the hole.

Atterbury won his way into the finals with a 1 up triumph over smooth swinging Sam Davis of Richardson. Davis had eliminated Dr. George Apple of Plano, 1 up while Atterbury's first win was a 6-4 victory over Lloyd Nelson, another long hitter. Riggs opened his championship round with a victory over Otho Nitcholas, while Malone defeated Clifford Knott.

Most decisive victor in the entire tournament was a newcomer to the county, B. R. Yandry of Plano, who had played little golf in the past few months. He made up for it in this tournament, though, cutting through the Men's Fourth Flight like a razor. His first eliminated Royal Stephenson of McKinney, 4-3; then trounced Leon Ussery of McKinney 7-6, and wound up things by blasting E. J. (Shorty) Watson, the tireless Wylie "giant killer". The count on this final was 6 up and 5 to play.

Fifth Flight honors went to a tall McKinney mail carrier, C. J. (Tex) Foust, who tore through this flight with almost as much decisive swinging as Yandry. He first drew a forfeit from Fred Dickinson, then trounced Lefty Allen of Richardson 9-7, and wound up by outlasting Stone Marshall of Van Alstyne, 6-5.

Jim Michael of McKinney won the Sixth Flight by defeating Campbell Smith, also of McKinney, in the final round.

Seventh Flight honors were captured by A. N. Helsley of McKinney who won over Jack Rattan.

The tournament which was open to any golfer in Collin County and any invited guest from out of the county drew golfers from Celina, Plano, Richardson, Wylie, Dallas, Farmersville and Van Alstyne.

The Club offered excellent entertainment during the tourney and the entire affair movd smoothly to the fine matches that closed it Labor Day. The course is in by far the finest shape in history and the greens were pronounced as excellent by everyone participating.

Besides Atterbury and Mrs. Jouette other medalist winners were: Men's Division' Second Flight: W. S. Nichols of McKinney; Fourth Flight; Ken Williams of Van Alstyen; Sixth Flight; Jack Rattan of McKinney.

McKinney High Lions Open Fall Workouts

By NORMAN SCOTT

The McKinney High Lions, 1956 District 6-AAA co-champions, opened fall workouts for the 1957 football season Friday morning as approximately fifty varsity candidates reported to head coach Joe Simpson and assistants Charles Qualls, Tommy Gray, and Rusty Talbot.

Eleven returning lettermen, including seven starters from last years' club, were among the group, and are expected to form the nucleus of the 1957 team.

The returnees include all-state end Don Wharton and all-district guard Charlie Powell, along with end Jerry Miller, tackle Cary Cox, guard Edward Dowell, center Philip Wilson, quarterback Robert Joplin, halfbacks Kenneth Locke, C. W. Williams, and Charlie McEntire, and fullback Bob Byrd. Ten of these returnees saw considerable action, either on offense or defense, last season.

Five of the lettermen, Wharton, Powell, Cox, Locke, and Jcplin wil be seeking their fourth letter, while Byrd will be after his third numeral, with Miller, Williams, McEntire, Wilson, and Dowell looking for their second awards.

With this experience distributed among six linemen and five backs, the Lions have already been picked in the pre-season ratings as the probable 1957 district champion.

Among the most promising newcomers, who will battle the veterans for starting positions, are quarterback Jery Kruse, guards Don Crutcher, Glenn Odle, Gilbert Box, and Henry Love, tackle Joe Riddle, center-end Jerry Shaw, ends Charles Corry, Bennie Jetton and Tom Pearce, and halfbacks Clifford Hendricks and Vic Petricka, all from the 1956 B-team; and fullback Robert Gracy, halfback-quarterback Tommy Joe Crutcher, guards Ben Pior and Robert Graves, tackles Charles Carrell and Glenn Coleman, end Clifford Dickerson, end-tackle Steve White, and center Bill Smith, all up from Coach Scott Johnson's championship freshman team of last year.

The Lions are expected to field a strong starting eleven, both offensively and defensively, and if some of the newcomers come through to add some aditional reserve strength, especially in the line, the McKinney crew could be double-tough all the way.

Powell, Miller, and McEntire are the Tri-Captains this year.

Coach Simpson announces that the Lions will journey to Sherman next Thursday afternoon to scrimmage the Bearcats at 5 p. m. They will open their regular schedule at Newsome Stadium, September 13th against the Irving High Tigers.

Floral Trophys Presented Golf Tourney Winners

In presenting the trophys to the winners in the Collin County Golf Tournament, held at the McKinney Country Club over the Labor Day holidays, additional awards were given to the winners by the Dooley Flower Shop. Replicas of golf equipment, designed from flowers, were the gifts from Mr. and Mrs. Jim Dooley, owners of the new shop.

A special decoration of the club for the tourney, was a three-foot long golf club, made from bronze and white Pom Pom mums, mounted on a circular green with a flag of bronze Pom Pom mums, depicting the 18th hole. The golf ball was made of white mums.

In the ladies competition, winners in the fourth flights were each presented with a ceramic golf bag and carrier containing an arrangement of white Asters and Oregon fern. The 16-inch high arrangement contained two miniature golf clubs.

To eight of the eight flight winners in the men's division, Mr. Dooley cleverly devised an arrangement made from three miniature golf clubs mounted as a tripod with a replica of a golf bag in the top, all which was mounted on a green free form base with a pool containing Nephytitis and dwarf Desert Palm.

Frisco Woman Returns From European Trip

Mrs. Larry O'Bannon has returned to her home near Frisco after a summer's travel and visit with relatives in Switzerland and Germany. She was in Germany when the unprecedented heat wave swept over Europe the latter yart of June but after arriving in Switzerland she found the weather delightfully cool. Her visits in Swiss homes permitted her to observe and participate in the Swiss way of life, quite different from our own, which was an unique and interesting experience.

Her travel by automobile and electric train carried her to every part of Switzerland as well as to the Russian Zone of Eastern Germany. War bombed Berlin remains for the most part a mass of ruins and during a four-hour conducted tour of the Russian Zone strict security measures were meticulously observed. Many of the persons on the tour were residents of West Berlin who appared as curious to observe the Russian soldiers in charge everywhere as the few Americans included in the group.

Mrs. O'Bannon returned from Europe via Lisbon on Swiss Air and from New York to Dallas via American Airlines and commented that good old Texas, dry as it is, looked better to her this time than ever before when returning from various former travel. — Frisco Journal.

Football Work Outs Begin Over County

Conference A and B as well as schools playing six-man football, started fall work-outs this week and coaches are feverishly driving their charges in an effort to prepare for opening games, many of which come as early as next Friday night, September 6.

Most coaches are scheduling drills in the early morning and at night under lights.

Conference AAA teams, of which group there is only one in Collin County (the McKinney Lions) opened fall practice Friday, August 30, and have opening contests set for September 13.

Plano and Frisco, for the second year, are in the same Class A district, a fact that is apt to generate considerable rivalry between these two Collin schools. For many seasons the two neighbors played in different districts and met only on are occasions when each won his own district championship. Now, the game is building itself into one of the top attractions in the area.

In District 12-B where the Royse City Bulldogs have long reigned supreme, very much like the Highland Park Scotties used to dominate the AA secene before moving on to a higher classifaction, two, and perhaps even more, serious threats to their supremacy of the district have arisen this year. In West Collin, the Frisco Coons, with a new coach in the person of Stanley Jaggers who coached at Anna last year, will send a strong contender into the grid wars this September and the Wylie Pirates, tutored by the resourceful R. C. Dodd, appear to be on the verge of producing a red hot eleven. The other possible threat is Van Alstyne always a fighting aggregation.

The Frisco Coons fielded a real good team last year and finished high up on the district ladder. They started things off by trouncing Class A Plano early in September and went on to win 6 and lost 4 games. The 1956 Coon team was young and inexperienced and gave an unusually fine account of themselves all season. This year, the same squad, with only a few exceptions, will be back in uniform and they can be counted on to show marked improvement. Coach Jaggers and his capable assistant, Bobby Frizzell, have 13 lettermen back in a squad that numbers approximately 30 boys and will start a team made up entirely of returning award winners. They wil lhave three seniors, four juniors and four sophomores in their starting aggregation.

At Wylie, Coach Dodd will have lots of experience on his 35-man squad of 15 lettermen and 20 who are either squadmen from last year of newcomers to the team. Wylie will be playing its final year in Conference B. Because of continued increases in enrollment the Pirates, according to reports, will move up to Conference A in 1958, giving Collin County three teams in that classification.

Distirct 12-B is composed of Wylie, Frisco, Anna, Royse City, Whitewright.

Frisco plays Plano at Frisco and Wylie palys at Farmersville Friday night, Sept. 6.

Chamber of Commerce . . .

CORNER

By PAT SIMPSON
C of C Manager

This shall be a feeble effort to write a weekly column about your Chamber of Commerce activities in McKinney. The effort will be more of a task thn you suspect since the writer was never able to wiggle out more than a grade of C on any English Course.

The purpose of this column is to keep you informed of things going on at the Chamber of Commerce and to plan in the making. We feel the Chamber of Commerce which operates on the investments of business people and other people interested in the improvement of McKinney should at all times keep its books open for inspection by any member; just as any office that operates on tax money should be open for inspection for any taxpayer. So call by the Chamber office and see what goes on.

Our Public Relations Committee has been working overtime lately working out plans to tell more people more of the good things McKinney has to offer. And incidentally McKinney has more good things to offer than any Community we know of or we would move to that community; we think you feel the same way or at least have a right to that feeling, because every one is born with certain right one of these is to occupy a place on this Earth where they can pursue happiness to the fullest extent. Our Public Relations Committee has invested in a sign to be placed on U. S. Highway 67 East of Greenville Texas directing traffic over State Highway 24, which we think will bring more people through McKinney. Look for this sign in a few weeks if you are over this road.

We have every reason to believe more people are interested in the general welfare and improvment of McKinney than at any time in the past several years, because we have an all time high for Chamber of Commerce Membership; being a total of 321 at the close of August 1957. With this many people pooling their efforts to make McKinney a better place to live things are bound to happen. The latest new members to be added to this growing list are three young Doctors just starting practice here; Dr. M. M. Hill; Dr. J. E. Quattlebaum; Dr. Billy R. Boring. We hope you will find in our Community the things you are seeking in your professional career and a full and happy life
